

BOMEX® 2006 Program to Feature Top Keynote Speakers

The Building Owners and Managers Association (BOMA) of Canada is delighted to announce new details for BOMEX® 2006, being held September 20 - 22 in Halifax, Nova Scotia. This year's conference theme is "A New Energy", reflective of the strength and vitality of Canada's commercial real estate industry.

At BOMEX® 2006 participants will enjoy an exciting and well-rounded conference program. In addition to relevant education sessions, details of which will be available at www.bomex.ca in the very near future, we are pleased to announce that we have secured three top keynote speakers who will entertain, inform and inspire our delegates.

One of the conference's highly acclaimed speakers will be Andrew Coyne, national affairs columnist for The National Post. Renowned as a colourful and controversial commentator on everything Canadian, Andrew Coyne is very representative of the publication he writes for. On The National Post's verve, Andrew has commented, "If there's one thing I think the Post stands for is it's against greyness, it's against dullness, it's against the conformity and bland smiling face of Canadianism that is too often presented..." You can be sure Andrew's keynote presentation at BOMEX® 2006 will be neither dull nor bland.

In addition, we are pleased to present Dr. Nick Bontis, recognized internationally as a leading strategy and management guru. With humour and passion, he empowers individuals, teams and organizations to build their brainpower for high performance and sustainable competitive advantage. Nick is an award-winning tenured professor of strategy and Maclean's magazine has identified him as one of McMaster University's most popular business professors for the last six years in a row.

Our third keynote speaker will be Mike Lipkin, President of Environics / Lipkin, the motivation and sales empowerment practice of Environics Research Group. Mike is renowned for his work on exploring personal excellence and has helped thousands of people in fifteen countries leverage Social Values to boost their personal productivity and build strong teams. Mike has also empowered over one million people internationally through his TV shows, seminars, books and Peak Performance Programs. BOMEX® attendees will discover why winners from all over the world turn to him for inspiration and skills to achieve their highest goals.

These three speakers are all renowned for their insight, enthusiasm and engaging presentations, and we are extremely pleased to be welcoming them to BOMEX® 2006 to anchor a conference program not to be missed. Participants from all facets of the commercial real estate industry are encouraged to make plans now to visit beautiful Halifax and attend BOMEX® 2006, the most important event of the year for the Canadian commercial real estate industry.

The updated BOMEX® 2006 website has just been launched. You are encouraged to visit it at www.bomex.ca for conference, registration and accommodation details. The website will continue to evolve as further conference details are finalized, so please bookmark the site and visit it regularly for updates. It is your best source of information on BOMEX® 2006. We're looking forward to seeing you in Halifax in September!
